The Sudoku Effect: Universities in the Vicious Circle of Bureaucracy Mar 28 2020 This book shows that the introduction of the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) of credit points as a new accounting unit at universities has led to increased bureaucracy and the schoolmaster-style regimentation of Bachelor's and Master's courses. It explains how, due to the pressure of having to plan every single working hour of studying in advance, a 'Sudoku Effect' is created by the necessity to combine courses, exams and modules in such a way that the points 'add up'. An unintentional side effect of the introduction of the ECTS, the Sudoku Effect has led to more classroom style teaching, an inflation of exams and fewer choices available to students. It has resulted in such complex and contradictory guidelines for the planning of the curriculum that the values attributed to the higher education reform can often only be realised if the rules for Bachelor's and Master's programmes are ignored, or at least stretched, in practice. The book describes how the reaction to this situation is the continuous further refinement of the complicated rules rather than their abolishment.

Be a Graduate Oct 15 2021 Never a straight-A student. Rejected from the teacher's training college. A dropout from law school. No money but a big dream, the author ultimately graduated with an honors degree and then a master's degree, and finally a doctorate. Why do college students drop out? One of the ten reasons is "Students who fail actually lack the will to persist because they have little or no career interest. They have no knowledge of employers' demands. The parents want them to study a course they don't like. Consequently, they don't have any idea of why they are in college." Furthermore, college dropouts and youth's suicides are increasing globally. On top of the common reasons for failing the exams, does the Covid-19 lockdown cause more challenges to you as a student? This book shows you precisely how to study without burning out, and what to do to maintain a healthy body and positive mindset. Being ambitious, she lived and learned the hard way which eventually raced to her finishing line in higher education. Inspired by her own achievement, the author aspires to share her formula of success, so you too can confidently be a graduate!
